Defendant(s).	)

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Plaintiff, a pretrial detainee appearing pro se, filed a complaint alleging violation of his civil rights. (Doc. 1). United States District Judge David L. Russell referred the matter to the undersigned Magistrate Judge for initial proceedings consistent with 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B), (C). (Doc. 3). Based on Plaintiff's failure to file an in forma pauperis application, or in the alternative to pay the filing fee, the undersigned recommends that the court DISMISS the action without prejudice to the re-filing.

On July 22, 2024, Plaintiff filed a Complaint but failed to submit a filing fee or an application to proceed in forma pauperis ("IFP," without prepayment of fees or costs). (Doc. 1). On August 20, 2024, the court ordered Plaintiff to cure this deficiency on or before September 10, 2024. (Doc. 4, at 1-2). Plaintiff was advised that "[f]ailure to comply with this Order may result in the dismissal of this action." (Id. at 2). To date, Plaintiff has failed to provide the court an IFP application or to pay the filing fee, as ordered.

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b), if a plaintiff “fails to prosecute or to comply with these rules or a court order,” the Court may dismiss the action. The Tenth Circuit “ha[s] consistently interpreted Rule 41(b) to permit courts to dismiss actions sua sponte for a plaintiff’s failure to prosecute.” Huggins v. Supreme Court of the United States, 480 F. App’x 915, 916-17 (10th Cir. 2012) (quotations omitted). If the dismissal is without prejudice, the court generally need not follow any “particular procedures” in entering the dismissal order. AdvantEdge Bus. Grp. v. Thomas E. Mestmaker & Assocs., Inc., 552 F.3d 1233, 1236 (10th Cir. 2009); see also Robledo-Valdez v. Smelser, 593 F. App’x 771, 775 (10th Cir. 2014) (explaining that a district court may, without abusing its powers, dismiss a case without prejudice pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b) without attention to any particular procedures).

Plaintiff’s failure to submit an IFP application or to pay the initial filing fee leaves the court unable “to achieve [an] orderly and expeditious” resolution of this action. Link v. Wabash R.R., 370 U.S. 626, 629-31 (1962) (discussing the inherent power of a court to dismiss suits for lack of prosecution on its own initiative). As outlined above, the court has provided Plaintiff sufficient notice of the possibility of dismissal, as well as an additional response opportunity through objection to this Report and Recommendation. Thus, considering the court’s right and responsibility to manage its cases, the undersigned finds that Plaintiff’s failure to comply with the court’s Orders (Doc. 4) warrants a recommendation that the Court DISMISS this action without prejudice to the re-filing.

The undersigned advises Plaintiff of his right to file an objection to this Report and Recommendation with the Clerk of Court on or before October 4, 2024, under 28

U.S.C. § 636(b)(1) and Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b)(2). The undersigned also advises Plaintiff that failure to make a timely objection to this Report and Recommendation waives the right to appellate review of both factual and legal questions contained herein. Moore v. United States, 950 F.2d 656, 659 (10th Cir. 1991).

This Report and Recommendation disposes of all issues and terminates the referral to the undersigned Magistrate Judge unless and until the matter is re-referred.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 13th day of September, 2024.
